WHICH?

MANY are the business concerns that are deserving, and have propositions of merit—wares that are as worthy as the most staple fabric and yet they are not enjoying their full share of profitable business simply because they are detached from the main current of profitable trade. If they would win success they must “connect up.” They must find and gain the “POINT OF CONTACT,” for how can the buying public “believe in one of whom they have not heard?”

The quickest and most profitable way to “connect up” is in the use of a good list. Stock lists or those made up a year ago will help some, but those made by R. L. Polk & Co. will help more, and those made from Directories will help most.

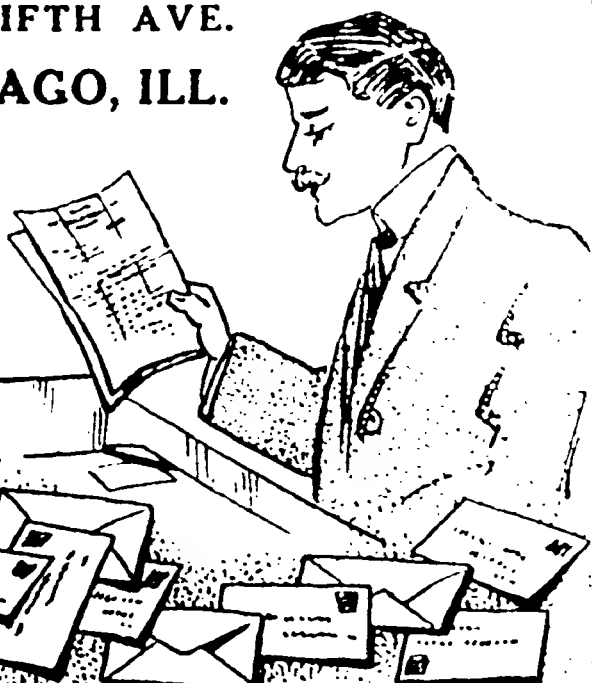

Let us help you most. We make all lists to order. In using lists made by us you will not fall short of your prospect.

Address

R. L. POLK & CO.

7 N. FIFTH AVE.

CHICAGO, ILL.

Roman writers tell us that "all roads lead to Rome", and we tell you that in America all roads lead to a business center. The principal thoroughfares in business however, are:

1. Inquiries—the oldest of our inter-communicating systems.
2. Friendly Tips—an auxiliary.
3. Directories—a direct route.
4. Lists—Directories royal auxiliary.

The first two principal routes came in use as the best method of distribution at an age when the handling of goods at a profit was a great problem. The cultivation and improvements that made it the greatest of thoroughfares, and brought into existence its auxiliary by the unrelenting energies of industry, produced also the more direct routes.

There should be little doubt over which routes future business will move. Everybody admits that the "pen is the great civilizer." Is it not a fact that industry has produced every conceivable invention to expedite and extend the power of the pen?

Who will again say that the fabric of every business institution does not rest upon the foundation of a list of patrons? Remove this list from the institution and you have removed the "good will." Remove the memory of it and you have destroyed the foundation upon which the business rests.

The question is how best to increase this list of patrons.

Answer: "Go forth into all the world and preach the glad tidings."

If a man has heard not of your institution how do you expect him to trade with you.

Ignorance of the laws of the present day salesmanship occasions mistake; mistake disappointment, and disappointment is misery. Knowledge on the other hand gives true judgment, and true judgment of human things gives a demonstration of their insufficiency to your peace.

When you have thoroughly analyzed the methods of increasing your list of patrons you will have decided to use lists for the same reason that others have found that letters "go in and get the other" while a salesman may be praying for an entrance.

"Letters go where no mortal salesman can."

The next question is where to get the best lists. If you should ask an old list buyer, who has used our lists, he will tell you to get it from R. L. Polk & Co.

"That's the place! We tell you to get it there."

Spend Your Money Where It Will Come Back to You

WE TAKE this way of informing you that Right Here in Des Moines we are equipped to handle most of the duplicate pads that are commonly used in grocery stores and meat markets throughout the United States, at prices that you have been getting from eastern houses, and enabling the trade in Des Moines to keep at home the money they have heretofore sent into New York and Ohio.

☛ We have in our establishment about thirty-five people, all living in Des Moines and drawing salaries that allow them to live well. We have also expended a great deal of money in perfecting our machinery to take care of this kind of work and this money has been placed with Des Moines Machinery firms, hardly a dollar of it being sent away from home.

☛ We believe under these conditions that we are entitled to Des Moines support.
